1)Introduction

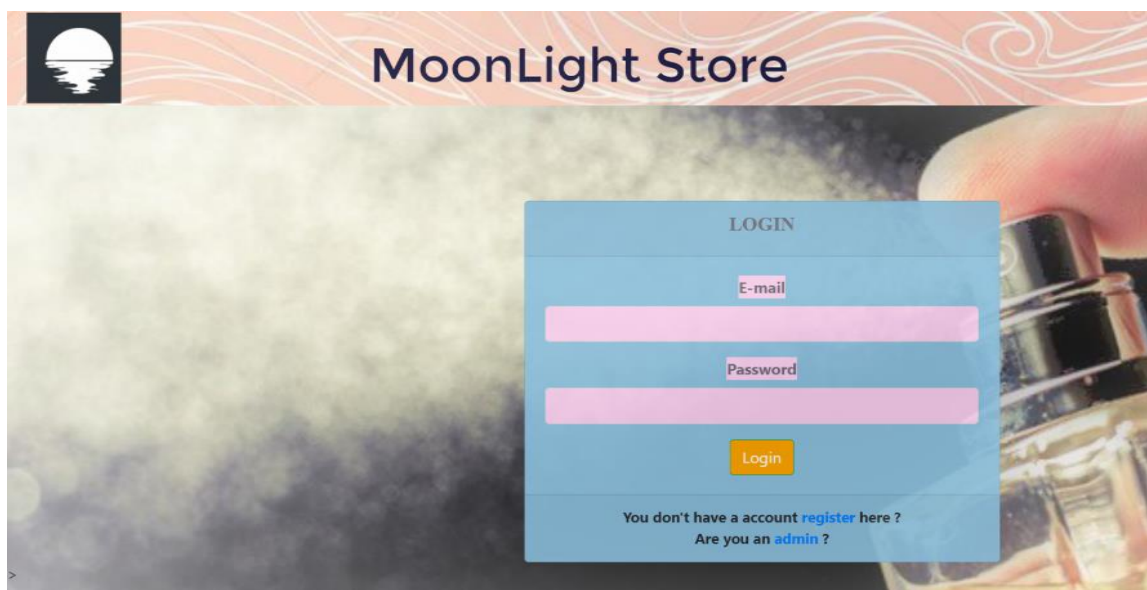

In this project, I developed an e-commerce site. An e-commerce site where various fragrances are sold. Users can log in to this site. They can add or remove the products they want to their cart. Also, the same product has multiple categories. There is not just one category. Customers can go to their profile and update their profile if they wish. They can also view the products in their baskets and choose payment options. There are both credit card and transfer options. There are also admins. Admins can add new products, users or update existing products. Only admins can access the admin page.
